Outdoor Ideas to try at home....
We know that Langley children love to be outside and really enjoy experiencing, playing and learning outdoors.
So why not try a few of the following at home?
Try something new, explore, have fun...and make some memories!

1. Try The National Trust’s ‘50 things’ activity list. You can decide where to start, discuss which ones you want to do and count up how many you’ve already done!
Outdoor Ideas to try at home....
We know that Langley children love to be outside and really enjoy experiencing, playing and learning outdoors. So why not try a few of the following at home? Try something new, explore, have fun...and make some memories!

There are lots of outdoor and nature based games and activities to do individually or as a family on the following sites. Have a look, try something new...and enjoy being outdoors!

2. RSPB - have a look at the games, activities, facts, stories and ideas on this site... https://www.rspb.org.uk/fun-and-learning/

3. Nature Detectives - there are countless things to do here. Chose from art and crafts, factsheets, games, helping wildlife activities, outdoor play ideas, puzzles, recipes and spotter sheets. Download and print off here... https://www.woodlandtrust.org.uk/naturedetectives/activities/
Outdoor Ideas to try at home....
We know that Langley children love to be outside and really enjoy experiencing, playing and learning outdoors.
So why not try a few of the following at home?
Try something new, explore, have fun...and make some memories!

4. Wildlife watch  https://www.wildlifewatch.org.uk/activity-sheets - again, lots of activities and things to try here. Look under the ‘activities’ and ‘resources’ tabs.

5. Forestry Commission – https://www.forestry.gov.uk/visit Have a look at the ‘family fun’ section...or visit one of the Forestry Commission’s story trails. This year they are based on ‘The Highway Rat’, an excellent story by Julia Donaldson.